Community Service

by Connor

Do you want your community to be a better place? You can help to get that by doing community service. It is important to do community service because it can help thecommunity advance, it can help our community's environment, and can help the people in the community too.

One reason it is important to do community service is it can help the community advance. That means that yourcommunity can become bigger and better. For example, people can help make buildings bigger and better. It can also help make the community have a better future.

Another reason it is important to do community service is it can help our environment. Ways we can help get a brighter future is we can help clean our environment. We can do this by recycling trash. We can reuse things like plastic, glass and paper. We can turn off lights and buyless plastic products. That means less trash in the community. have a better place to live. That means itcan intrigue more people to live in the community. It can also help people experiencing homelessness have a better place to live.

By helping the community like cleaning the environment, it can benefit the people which will help get abetter future for the community. That is why community service is important.